Tyrone Blaze is ready to go to work at Moes and is happy to have a successful day.

Tyrone is beginning to panic because the parking lot in downtown Columbia is busy and he can't afford the parking garage.

In a panic, Tyrone pulls to the side and begins to hyperventilate due to being and getting suspended from work. He searches methods online and downloads the parking spot app. The app displays available parking nearby, purchase necessary, and distance

Tyrone finds a parking spot using the app and books it for free.

Tyrone saves the spot and arrives to the spot. The panic ceases.
Tyrone then speeds to clock in.
